

Dolphin Automata

The automata I created features a pair of dolphins jumping through waves when a hand crank is turned. I chose dolphins as my primary focus for this automata since they remind me of the warm, sunny beaches of California to take my mind off the cold bitter winds of Massachusetts in February. I hope this automata brings others joy so they also can be happy and warm like a dolphin.